

GREATER MONTGOMERY COUNTY FAIR JULY 19, 20, 21, 22 MT. STERLING ADVOCATE.

VOLUME XXXI.

MT. STERLING, KENTUCKY, THURSDAY, JULY 13, 1922.

NUMBER 78.

Protracted Meeting At Somerset

There will be a protracted meeting held at Somerset, beginning July 23 and continuing through August 6. The preaching will be by Rev. E. B. Bourland, a former minister of Somerset, but now the pastor of the Christian church at Lancaster. Mr. Bourland has had a steady growth in his success as a minister, covering a period of about twenty years, until he became one of the best known and most influential ministers in the Christian church in Kentucky. Wherever he has labored the work under his administration has shown gratifying and permanent growth. He has a pleasing personality and Christian character which is quite worthy of respect and even admiration.

The music will be in charge of Miss Edith Elliott, a daughter of Rev. H. W. Elliott, of Sulphur. Mr. Elliott is known all over Kentucky as the secretary of the Kentucky Christian Missionary Society, in which capacity he has served many years. Miss Edith Elliott is a worthy daughter of such a man and comes well recommended for character and ability.

The services will begin each evening at 7:45 o'clock and will be interesting and profitable to all. It will be the policy of those conducting the services to see that they are dismissed by 9 o'clock each evening, but all are urged to remember that they will begin promptly.

As all know, the Somerset church is a famous old spot. It has been an influence for great good for several generations. For a church of its size it ranks high in reputation and influence among the churches of the brotherhood of which it is a part. It has been enjoying a period of increasing prosperity and interest of late which is gratifying to those interested in its welfare. Many of its former members look back with affection to the days spent there and rejoice in the good it has done and is doing now.

It is hoped that all those living in the neighborhood will take advantage of the opportunities afforded by the meeting. Many of those living at a distance should also take advantage of the opportunity to come and enjoy the meetings and to contribute their part toward making it a success.

CHILD IMPROVING

Missouri Belle Elam, the child who was hurt several days ago when she ran in front of the car driven by J. Prewitt Young, is improving, and is now thought to be out of danger.

Grass Seed Growers Launch Association

With about forty prominent bluegrass seed growers, representing 11 counties of Central Kentucky, the Kentucky Bluegrass Seed Growers' Co-operative Marketing Association was formally launched at a meeting held in Lexington yesterday.

The purpose of the organization is to pool the bluegrass seed crop of 1922, and an active campaign with this end in view is already under way.

The counties producing bluegrass seed represented in the new association are Fayette, Clark, Bourbon, Scott, Woodford, Franklin, Jessamine, Madison, Montgomery, Bath and Harrison.

The organization meeting was called to order shortly before 10 o'clock and on motion of Robert E. Beatty, of Fayette county, Attorney Dwight L. Pendleton, of Clark county, was chosen temporary chairman, and Julian Rogers, of Bourbon county, temporary secretary.

Following is the board of directors chosen:

Fayette and Jessamine—John D. Marshall and Robert E. Beatty. Clark and Madison—Nelson P. Gay, Eli Dooley and Thomas W. Brock.

Montgomery and Bath—Colonel Gatewood and Clark B. Patterson.

Woodford, Franklin and Scott—R. H. Gay and Sam Mason.

Bourbon and Harrison—John Winn, of Woodford; Rodes Estill, of Fayette county, and Edward Prewitt, of Montgomery county.

The directors of the Bourbon-Harrison group were chosen from other counties on the recommendation of the Bourbon county growers, with the distinct understanding that they are to resign when Bourbon county makes its final report next Saturday, recommending its permanent selections as members of the directorate.

In most of the counties represented in the new association the movement to pool the bluegrass seed crop has been under way for several weeks and much of the crop has already been signed up, according to reports made at the meeting. In Bourbon county an active pooling campaign will be launched at once and delegates from that county are optimistic that a large part of the crop there, which is perhaps larger than that of any county in the district, will be pooled in the next few days. Solicitors will also be put to work in Jessamine, Scott, Harrison

Everything In Readiness For Montgomery County Fair, Beginning Wednesday, July 19

Before going to press we asked Secretary Wilkerson for a final word about the Montgomery County Fair, which starts next Wednesday, and in reply Mr. Wilkerson said, "Just tell the people who are looking forward to the fair and expecting much this year that they are not going to be disappointed in a single particular—everything is in ship-shape for the opening, and I feel confident that we are going to be able to more than fulfill our promises to make the 1922 exhibition the biggest and best fair ever held in Montgomery county. The thing which concerns me most now is whether we are going to be able to accommodate all the race horses which we have word are on their way here—already they have begun to arrive, and following the close of the Ashland fair, which is on this week, we expect several carloads from there."

The forty-car special train of the Murphy Hippodrome and Exposition Shows will arrive Sunday afternoon and will immediately begin to unload. J. Barbour Russell and his famous Maysville Boys' Band will arrive on a special car Tuesday afternoon and, provided the boys get settled in their quarters in time, we may expect a "warming up" concert Tuesday evening. The big passenger airplane of the Kentucky Aerial Transportation Company is expected to come whirling in by air line some time Monday.

The track is in excellent condition and is alive each morning and afternoon with horses working out in preparation for their starts at the fair. Horsemen who have looked over the entries say that they contain as classy and well balanced a lot of horses as ever showed their heels on a local track, and, therefore, some fine and exciting sport may be looked forward to.

Season tickets are now on sale at many of the local stores and at all banks, the sale being in charge of the Health and Welfare League, which gets a percentage on the sales to be used in the work of the organization. Get your tickets, ladies and gentlemen—be on hand early and stay late. A good time and lots of clean, classy sport is assured everybody. The latch-key hangs on the outside in Mt. Sterling next week!

A New Baseball Schedule Arranged

As will be seen on another page in this issue, the new schedule of the second half of the Blue Grass League baseball schedule has been announced. It will be seen that Mt. Sterling is scheduled to play at Cynthiana today, while that outfit will be the attraction at Fair Grounds park Saturday afternoon, and on Sunday afternoon the Essex will journey to the Harrison county capital, where they will again do battle with the Cynthiana outfit.

The locals have been showing up fine in practice during the last few days and are expected to give a splendid account of themselves today. A new left fielder from Cincinnati has reported to the club and is said by those who have seen him perform to be a wonder in catching fly balls. He is fast as lightning, makes a sure catch and is said to be a good hitter.

Popular Colored Man Suffers Stroke; Dead

While on his delivery wagon near the Montgomery National Bank yesterday, Wilson (Sap) Owings, colored transfer man of this city, was stricken with apoplexy, and came near falling from the wagon. He was taken to the office of Dr. P. K. McKenna for medical attention, and was later removed to his home. From the first it was known that his condition was critical and he died this morning. "Sap" was one of the best known and best liked darkeys in the town and had many friends among the white people as well as of his own race.

AT J. R. LYONS' COURT DAY

He sold 22 saddles June court day and has arranged to sell 44 saddles Monday, just twice the number. Hand-made bridles at prices ranging from $1.50 to $10.

See The Advocate for printing.

Mt. Sterling National Installing New Vault

The gigantic door, weighing 15,000 pounds, for the new vault at the Mt. Sterling National Bank has been received and is being installed. The vault is being placed in the large room recently occupied by Hoffman's Insurance Agency, and is to be one of the most commodious and most modern ever placed in a bank this size in Kentucky. It will be absolutely burglar and fireproof and will afford the patrons of this thriving institution plenty of room and absolute safety for their valuable papers. This institution, under its capable management, always gives the interest of its patrons first consideration, and, in their opinion, no safety appliance or convenience is too good for the depositors of the Mt. Sterling National.

A stock dividend of $50,000 was recently declared and the capital stock increased from $50,000 to $100,000. This bank now has a surplus and profits account of $130,000. Its business is showing a steady increase due to the fact that the officials of this institution realize that their prosperity depends upon the prosperity of the entire community, and for that reason they can always be found working for every movement that will have a tendency to aid in the prosperity of the community at large.

With the installation of the new vault and other improvements being made in the banking office, the Mt. Sterling National Bank will have one of the largest, most convenient and best equipped banking houses in Kentucky.

HOWARD'S MILL PASTOR QUILTS

Rev. Noel Hodges has resigned as pastor of the Howard's Mill Baptist church to take up more fully the evangelistic work he has been following for years.

Asthma Fatal To Tilman Kerns

The death of Tilman Kerns, which occurred at his home near the Grassy Lick bridge on the Paris pike early Tuesday morning, was a distinct shock to his friends and relatives. Mr. Kerns had been a sufferer from asthma for a number of years, but his death coming at this time was entirely unexpected, as he was up and able to be about the house Monday.

Mr. Kerns was born near Bethel, Bath county, July 26, 1846, and was nearly 76 years old. He was twice married, his first wife, who was Miss Nannie Pryor, dying years ago, leaving one child, William Kerns. Several years later Mr. Kerns married Miss Phoebe Peed and she with two children, Mrs. Leroy Estill, of this county, and F. E. Kerns, of Boone county, and one brother, Robert Kerns, of Bourbon county, survive.

Mr. Kerns was an honorable, upright citizen, one who lived a life above reproach, being a firm believer in the Golden Rule, "Do Unto Others as You Would Have Others Do Unto You." A gentleman at all times and in all places, his death will be a distinct loss to the community in which he lived. Funeral services were held at his late residence this morning, conducted by Rev. Clyde Darsie, of the Christian church, with burial in Machpelah cemetery.

AGED LADY DIES IN COUNTY

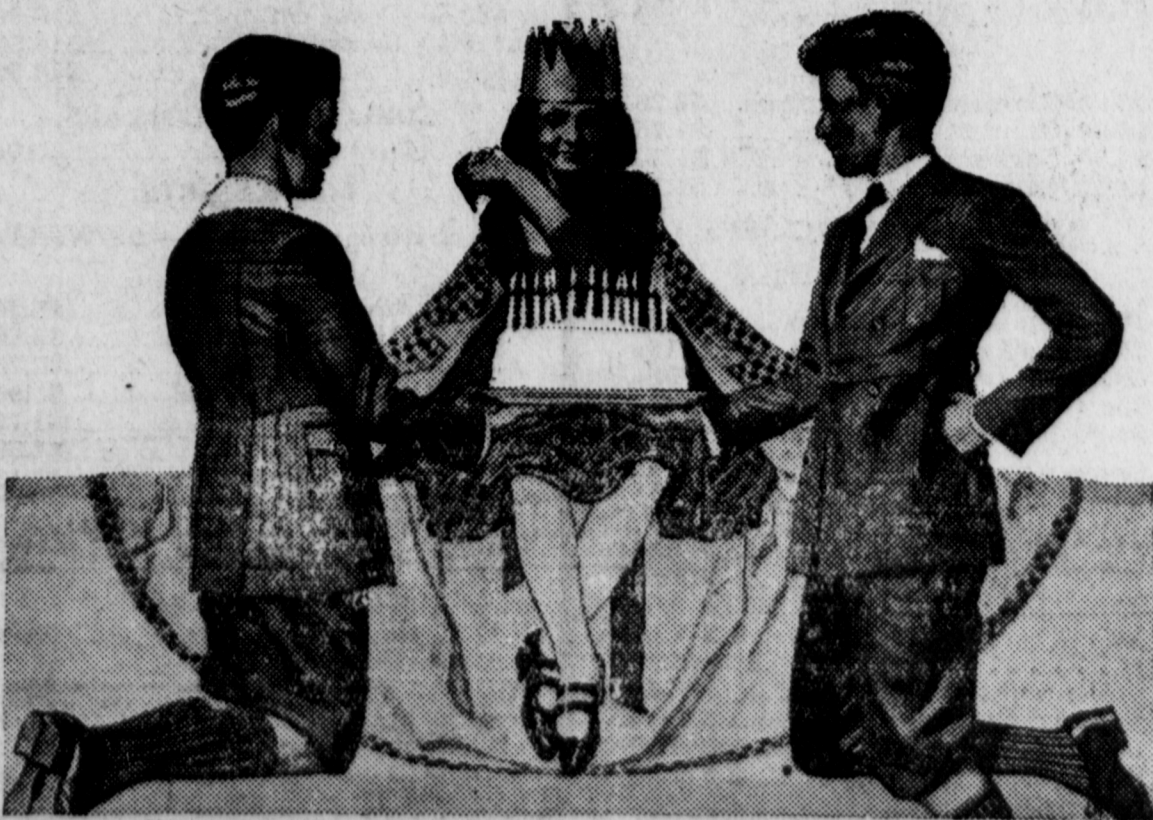

Mrs. Miles Cochran, aged 86 years, died at her home on Spencer creek, this county, Tuesday afternoon, July 11, 1922. Burial services in Machpelah cemetery on Wednesday afternoon were conducted by Rev. B. W. Trimble. Mrs. Cochran is survived by her aged husband, one son, Henry Drake, who lives in Oklahoma, and other kindred in this county.

She was the last of her generation, a sister of the late Mrs. S. A. Duff, of this county, who died many years ago. She was the aunt of Mrs. J. T. Coons, of this city.

Sign With Lexington

Tod Frank, star twirler, and Charley (Homerun) Ellis, both formerly with the Mt. Sterling baseball club, have signed with the Lexington Studebakers and will likely be seen in the lineup with that team today against Paris.

Concrete Educational Suggestions

New York, July 12.—Alfred J. Westendorf, formerly of this state, now with the Babson Institute, Wellesley Hills, Mass., where young men are trained for high executive positions, has earned an enviable reputation, through a study of this, as a developer of permanent "root" growth in boys and young men. He is one of those men who has time to think of and with others. Some of the magazines have referred to him as a national friend, others call him another Doctor Corwell or Judge Lindsay. He possesses a very inquisitive mind when it comes to the welfare of young people. He is always wondering about what is being done and what might be done. During the past two years at his own expense and in his quiet way he has been carrying on a survey with reference to high school activities throughout the country. He wanted to know what they were thinking about and what they were doing. He found that practical school men everywhere were clamoring and craving for definite and concrete examples of school activities. That better ideas were in demand everywhere. To serve these people is the thing that urged him on in these investigations. Mr. Westendorf found that lack of interest on the part of the pupil in many cases was due to lack of concentrated effort on the part of the school. That it was due to not having the work hung on a definite hook. He found that many schools by simply giving their present methods a new twist might become 100 per cent more productive. He found loads of schools carrying on splendid thrift campaigns, but in Olaf, Kansas, for instance, the pupils are not simply urged to save, but are trained from the 5th grade up to prepare to meet their own graduation expenses. It is not only a fine training, but unconsciously it tends to develop a desire to stay to the finish. It tends to eliminate the dropping out habit. It gives thrift an entirely new color.

In Birmingham, Mich., they are building up a Scholarship Fund, another fine example to follow. The ordinary variety of "honor roll" is common everywhere. In the Richmond, Indiana, High Schools they do it a different way. They advertise the "honor boys" as "guaranteed boys." It creates an entirely different effect. These young men during their senior year are allowed to spend a part of their time without pay, associating and acquainting themselves with the things they hope to do after graduation. It gives them a practical opportunity to demonstrate their worth and it places them on a much better footing after graduation. This added kink doubles and triples effort. We are told that if we are not trained to be workers, we unconsciously are being trained to be strikers.

The Pierre Schools of South Dakota are radiating a helpful influence over an unusually wide area. There are many rural children in that locality who cannot afford to go to Pierre for the entire school year. To meet the need, the high school teachers of Pierre co-operate with the rural teachers during the first half of the year, thus reducing the cost to these children by one-half. It is a plan that might be copied and duplicated very effectively in many other states and sections. Canton, Ohio, during the past school year attracted more than 4,000 people out of a population of 90,000 to its splendid night schools. In Richmond, Virginia, the second generation is commencing to reap the benefits of these special educational advantages. The Richmond schools are justly proud of the accomplishments of a certain mother in that city.

Mr. Westendorf's constructive investigations have aroused widespread interest. It has attracted the attention of the governors of Virginia and Texas, in fact public spirited people in general from coast to coast.

STILL LIVES
Thomas Gray, the English poet who gave the world the famous "Elegy in a Country Churchyard," died in 1771, but the beautiful poem still lives. The first stanza runs:

The curfew tolls the bell of parting days,
The evening hushes fall slowly o'er the sea,
The plowman homeward plods his weary way,
And leaves the world to darkness and to me.

Another striking stanza is the following:
Full many a gem of purest ray serene,
The dark, unfathomed caves of ocean hide,
Full many a flower is born to blush
unseen,
And waste its sweetness upon the desert air.

FARM AND HOME NEWS FROM OVER KENTUCKY

Five scrub hogs will be eliminated from Campbell county dairy herds as a result of the recent organization of a co-operative purchased Jersey sire association in that county, according to County Agent H. F. Link. The organization is made up of 25 farmers who own about 150 cows. In addition, the county has a co-operative purchased Holstein sire association.

A number of Union county farmers are showing lively interest in the sale of limestone for soil improvement. County Agent L. C. Brewer reports, S. W. Blue recently shipped in two carloads to be used on his farm near Normand. His results with the material have been so satisfactory that he intends to use two carloads annually for the next five years.

The eradication of cattle tuberculosis is going forward with good results in Midway county, according to County Agent E. H. Ford. Fifty-seven animals recently were tested in one day in connection with the campaign being conducted against the disease.
No reactors were found.

Hundreds of tons of limestone are being crushed by Lincoln county farmers who will use the material on their farms this fall in an effort to improve their soils. County Agent C.
B. Elston says. Four hundred tons recently have been crushed in the Hubble community, while the state courthouse, which is being used for the work, is scheduled for additional work throughout the summer and fall.

NEW CIRCULAR ON TOMATOES IS READY FOR DISTRIBUTION

A new circular designed as a handicultural department, and contains a detailed discussion of such things as the growing of plants, hot bed preparation, care of seedlings, soil preparation, field planting and culture along with a number of others of special interest to tomato growers.

THE WALSH COMPANY

(Incorporated)

THE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILWAY COMPANY

OFFICE OF THE PRESIDENT

Richmond, Va., July 10, 1922

To the Federated Shop Employees of the Chesapeake & Ohio Railway Company:

On June 27, 1922, I issued a circular letter "TO THE EMPLOYEES OF THE CHESAPEAKE & OHIO RAILWAY COMPANY," in which I stated that the newspapers carried, as a news item, the information that certain classes of our employees had been requested to vote on the question of whether or not they would accept certain rulings handed down by the United States Railroad Labor Board. It was shown in that letter that the rulings which were questioned had been made by the Labor Board after exhaustive investigation, and due and careful consideration. It was also pointed out that this railroad had, without question, obeyed and put into effect all the rulings of the Labor Board, including increases in rates of pay and that it was impossible for it to do anything other than to put into effect the disputed rulings as they had been formulated and handed down by a duly constituted government authority—the United States Railroad Labor Board, acting within its authority.

On July 1, 1922, without any previous notice or advice to the management of this company, you left your work concertedly. In taking this action, you are striking against the findings of the tribunal established by the Congress of the United States for the purpose of hearing and deciding disputes between Railroad Companies and their employees in order that there will be no occasion for a resort to strikes.

As stated in my letter above referred to, this Company desires to continue to work on the closest basis with its employees, and from personal contact with the employees involved and their representatives, I have reason to believe that you are at heart loyal to the Railway Company, and that since you have had time for more matured thought and deliberation, you are now willing to return to your post of duty.

Manifestly, transportation by this Railway must, in the interest of those it serves—the public, go on uninterrupted, and to accomplish this, it is necessary that the Railway have and maintain a full complement of shop employees. To this end, and with a view to re-establishing our former friendly relations, we will retain on the seniority lists the names of all employees covered by the Rules now in effect between the Company and the Federated Shop Employees, and preserve to them all the rights their seniority entitles them to, provided they return to their post of duty. If employees now on strike do not promptly return to the service, the exigency of the situation will compel us to employ new men.

The Company assures those now in the service, those who resume work and others who take service with the Company, every practicable protection in the performance of their duties.

W. J. HARAHAAN,
President.

Death Rate in Kentucky

In six of the eight largest cities in Kentucky the death rate in 1921 was lower than in 1920, according to figures compiled by the American Child Hygiene Association and made public this week by the State Board of Health.

The six cities in which there was a reduction in the death rate are Covington, where the rate fell from 15.2 to 12.8; Lexington, from 22.8 to 20.6; Louisville, 15.2 to 13.6; Newport, 11.3 to 9.0; Owensboro, 21.0 to 17.3, and Paducah, 15.8 to 15.7. The two cities that had a higher death rate in 1921 than in 1920 were Ashland, where the rate rose from 13.1 to 16.1, and Henderson, with a rise from 14.5 to 15.1.

All these cities with the exception of Newport show a percentage improvement in the death rate for the twelve-year period since 1910. The percentages are: Ashland, 69.5; Covington, 7.2; Henderson, 6.3; Lexington, 18.3; Louisville, 4.9; Owensboro, 8.8, and Paducah, 8.7. The death rate in Newport in 1922 was 3.3 higher than in 1910.

In all of these cities with the exception of Ashland, where no figures were available until 1920, there also was a reduction in infant mortality between 1917 and 1921. In Covington the infant mortality rate fell from 100 average for the four-year period to 57 in 1922; in Henderson, from 101 to 98; in Lexington, from 113 to 68; in Louisville, from 99 to 76; in Newport, from 90 to 67; in Owensboro, from 129 to 63, and in Paducah, from 158 to 72.

CHILDREN'S HOME SOCIETY BUILDING A NEW HOME

The Kentucky Children's Home Society, largely through the aid of the school children of Kentucky, is building a splendid new home in the country near Louisville. This home is replacing the old crowded buildings on Baxter avenue in the city, where for many years the destitute children of the state found refuge. The society plans to erect a village of cottages, where at least 300 children may be accommodated, so that no little waif in Kentucky will be refused a comfortable home. However, the building has been halted now because of lack of funds.

A representative of the society has been in Mt. Sterling this week to enlist the aid of the teachers at the summer school in raising funds with which to erect a boys' cottage this fall. Each teacher has been asked to give an entertainment or otherwise raise money in her school as soon as possible for the benefit of the Kentucky Children's Home Society building fund. The society is very anxious to build a cottage for the boys next, as they are now living in temporary "barracks" until a better home can be provided.

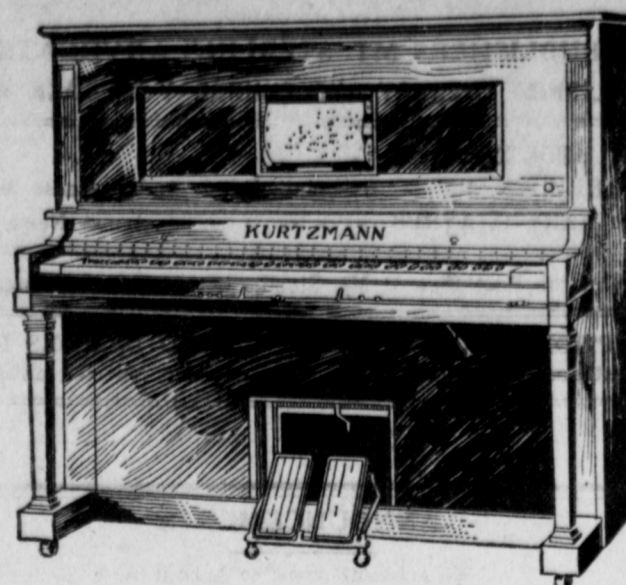

The new home is on a farm of 86 acres near Lyndon and adjoins the Kentucky Military Institute grounds. Fruits and vegetables are raised and in the near future the society plans to have a dairy, pigs and chickens so that the children may enjoy real country life. Two buildings have been completed, a four-unit cottage for the girls and an administration building, part of which is being used as a school.

The purpose of the Kentucky Children's Home Society is to provide good Christian homes for the neglected, mistreated and homeless waifs of Kentucky who without its aid would grow up in poverty, ignorance and suffering. The children are all committed there by the county judges throughout the state. Fifty-eight children from Montgomery county have been cared for by the institution. The children are placed in comfortable homes in every part of the state, where they are treated as a member of the family, sent to school and given religious instruction. They are regularly visited and carefully supervised by agents of the society until they become of age, unless they are legally adopted. About 5,000 children have been given good homes through the institution and there are about 140 children at the receiving home now.

The new home has been dedicated to the school children of Kentucky. It is a gift from the boys and girls of our state who have good homes and kind parents to their unfortunate brothers and sisters who have none of these good things of life. The citizens of Montgomery county are urged to do all in their power to help the schools in their great undertaking and to make it possible for the boys at Kentucky Children's Home to have a comfortable place in which to live before next winter.

It is well that some of the delegates at some of the peace conferences leave their razors at home.

LYNCHING RECORD FOR FIRST SIX MONTHS OF 1922

According to the records compiled by Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, in the department of records and research, Monroe N. Work, in charge, in the first six months of 1922 there were 30 lynchings. This is 6 less than the number, 36, for the first six months of 1921, and 18 more than the number, 12, for the first six months of 1920. Of the 30 persons put to death, 19, or 63 per cent, were in two states, Mississippi, 7, and Texas, 12.

Of those lynched, 2 were white and 28 were negroes. Eleven of those put to death were charged with the crime of rape and nineteen were charged with other offenses. Five of those put to death were burned at the stake and 3 were put to death and then their bodies burned. Four of those lynched in the year 1921 were burned at the stake and three were first put to death and then their bodies were burned.

The states in which lynchings occurred and the number in each state are as follows: Alabama, 1; Arkansas, 2; Florida, 1; Georgia, 4; Louisiana, 1; Mississippi, 7; South Carolina, 1; Oklahoma, 1, and Texas, 12.

WEATHER BUREAU HELPS BANKERS

Evidence of the connection between banking and weather was afforded recently when a federal reserve bank in a middle western city sends to the Weather Bureau of the United States Department of Agriculture for climatological reports on certain sections in another state. The bank is interested in the effect of local weather on crops. It can afford to lend money if the rainfall is satisfactory and other conditions make the prospects bright for a good yield. A dry season means poor returns and an unsafe risk for the bank. One of the jobs of the weather bureau is to furnish accurate information of this nature.

MUSIC STORE

E. C. Christian Music Company, Lexington, has established in Mt. Sterling under the personal supervision of Miss Mary G. Evans, one of our capable, energetic business women, the same high-grade store as is in Lexington. This music company is favorably known over the entire south and Mt. Sterling is indeed fortunate in inducing the establishment of this link, thereby adding another drawing feature to this, the best business city to the square foot in the south. It is just such additions that give a growing impetus to our thrifty cities.

This music company proposes meeting demands of this section and if Miss Evans does not have in stock or by catalogue the needs of the trade a telegraph message will convey the wants to the head store, which by parcel post, express or by truck will supply the demand in the fewest hours.

Everything musical will be here and our people will by the methods adopted know just what they want and get as good terms and lower prices than could be gotten in the highest class music stores of the greater cities. We welcome the new store and gladly introduce Miss Evans and the E. C. Christian Music Company to our people.

and Bath counties with the view of bringing up their quota of the pooled crop. In Clark, Montgomery, Fayette and some of the other counties it was stated that the bulk of the crop is already pledged or in the hands of men who are in sympathy with the co-operative movement and who will come into the organization promptly. Last year the crop of bluegrass seed was very short, aggregating about 250,000 bushels, and as a result the price went as high as $2.65 a bushel. This year it is estimated that the crop will total nearly 1,000,000 bushels.

Following the organization meeting, the new board of directors met and elected John B. Winn, of Woodford county, temporary chairman; Clark B. Patterson, of this city, temporary secretary, and adopted a resolution providing that the treasurer shall be taken from Bourbon county. A meeting of the board of directors was also called for next Saturday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce rooms in Winchester, at which time the final report will be received from Bourbon county on the directors to be chosen from that county and executive officers of the new association elected, including president, secretary, treasurer and permanent executive committee.

Among the prominent bluegrass seed growers attending the organization meeting were: Nelson P. Gay, David Gay, Dwight L. Pendleton, John Duvall, Thomas W. Brock, Field VanMeter, T. Penn Taylor, William Robb and George G. Prewitt, Clark county; John D. Marshall, C. M. Marshall, Ben Crimm, Emmett Coons, Robert E. Beatty, Joe Houston, Jake Graves, Joe C. VanMeter, Rodes Estill, Horace Davis and Harry Burgoyne, Fayette county; Julian Rogers, L. A. Soper, Louis Rogers, Walter and Calvin Ming, D. E. Clark, George Stewart and Will Taylor, Bourbon county; Clark B. Patterson and Colonel Gatewood, Montgomery county, and Joseph Robb, Jessamine county. Other counties which went into the organization were represented by proxy, but the growers in all, it was stated, are thoroughly in sympathy with the movement.

ACTRESS OBJECTS TO FASHIONABLE CLOTHES

In these days of short skirts and shorter bathing suits it sounds almost unbelievable to find a motion picture actress who comes out unqualifiedly for the comfortably concealing garb of other years. But there is one female character in "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," a Rex Ingram production for Metro, which will be shown at the Tabb on Monday night, who doesn't care a hoot about the latest Paris creations and who was so set in the antipathy to the modern costumes that she appeared in the picture in her own dress.

This actress with very much of a mind of her own is a full-blooded Cheyenne Indian, with a picturesque and long drawn out name, which as a matter of convenience and sentiment, Director Ingram shortened to "Minnehaha."

Minnehaha makes her appearance in the film version of the novel of Vincente Blasco Ibanez very early in the picture as a sort of maid of all work on the big ranch of Madaraga, the Centaur, in South America, and when he dies and the family is broken up, she goes as an old retainer with the Desnoyers to Paris.

For the Argentina scenes the old Indian woman was right in her element, but when the Desnoyers family moved to Paris it was desired that she be attired in the more civilized garb so as to carry out the idea of the change in the family in making their residence in Paris. For one rehearsal Minnehaha appeared in the tight waist, the abbreviated skirt and high heeled slippers.

But when the camera man was ready to shoot the scene Minnehaha was missing and for two days this part of the filming of "The Four Horsemen" was held up while the missing Indian actress was sought all over the lot. When finally discovered she protested that even the novelty of appearing in the big picture was not sufficient to offset the terrible inconvenience of the modern style of dress, and so finding persuasion futile, Director Ingram decided to shoot the "faithful retainer," even in the Paris scenes, in the garb with which she appears in the Argentina scenes.

Some married couples are like a grand opera company—they get along fine in public.

The Herald Made Defendant In Suit

The Lexington Herald has been sued by Circuit Judge Halbert, Catlettsburg, for $50,000, charging libel. The suit is based on an editorial which recently appeared in the Herald in regard to the Clayhole murder cases which were tried in Catlettsburg by Judge Halbert. In the article Judge Halbert and the commonwealth's attorney are severely criticized for their action in the case, and it further charges that the Democrats were tried and convicted.

while the Republicans were turned loose on bond. Mr. Breckinridge says he believes all the statements he made to be true and offered the columns of his paper to Judge Halbert for a denial. The suit is attracting widespread attention and the outcome of which will determine just how far a newspaper can go in a case of this character.

Movement For Christian Education

A call has been issued to the Presbyterian pastors of Kentucky to fix dates for special services in behalf of the movement for Christian education. As soon as possible the date will be announced.

Encouraging letters have been coming into headquarters, 109 East Broadway, Louisville, from every section of the state, not only from the Presbyterians, but from other denominations, congratulating the united commission on the proposed campaign. Former students of Centre College, the Louisville Seminary and Kentucky College for Women are offering to aid in the work.

While the financial goal of the campaign is to secure $1,000,000 for Christian education, it must not be forgotten that other results will flow from the successful completion of such a campaign. Among the by-products of the campaign, the director, Mr. McGill, mentions the following: A larger Presbyterian consciousness, a wider Presbyterian fellowship, an increasing interest in Christian education, the development of Christian benevolence, life enlistment for a whole time Christian service, an increased number of workers for the local church and the promotion of the prayer spirit.

Running is fine exercise, unless you have not enough breath left to give a reason for it when you reach the place where the road ends.

WHAT TO PUT IN SCHOOL CHILDREN'S LUNCH BASKET

Combinations similar to those below, which are suggested by the United States Department of Agriculture, will be found excellent for the school lunch basket. Many others equally good will suggest themselves. Sandwiches with sliced tender meat for filling; baked apple; cookies or a few lumps of sugar.

Slices of meat loaf or bean loaf; sandwiches; stewed fruit; small frosted cake.

Crisp rolls, hollowed out and filled with chopped meat or fish, moistened and seasoned, or mixed with salad dressing; orange, apple, a mixture of sliced fruits, or berries; cake.

Lettuce or celery sandwiches; cup custard; jelly sandwiches.

Cottage cheese sandwiches or a pot of cream cheese with bread and butter sandwiches; peanut sandwiches; fruit; cake.

Hard-boiled eggs; baking powder biscuits; celery or radishes; brown sugar or maple sugar sandwiches.

Bottle of milk; thin cornbread and butter; dates; apple.

Raisin or nut bread with butter; cheese; orange; maple sugar.

Baked bean and lettuce sandwiches; apple sauce; sweet chocolate.

The manufacture of peanut oil has been stimulated a great deal in recent years because of the ravages of the cotton boll weevil in reducing cotton growing in certain sections. Peanuts are grown in place of cotton. Before 1914 very little of the oil was made, only 450,000 pounds being produced in 1912, but by 1918 the quantity turned out by crushers in this country was about 50,000,000 pounds. At the same time imports increased from 7,600,000 to 27,400,000 pounds.

American Legion News

A memorial highway extending from the Atlantic coast to the western boundary line of Virginia, passing through that state's principal cities, has been suggested by the Virginia American Legion as a memorial to the state's world war heroes. The suggestion, which takes the form of a set of resolutions, will be acted on at the next session of the state assembly.

Two million American club women pledged themselves to assist the American Legion in obtaining adequate hospital treatment for disabled world war veterans and to help rehabilitated veterans find employment through their representatives at the meeting of the board of directors of the General Federation of Women's Clubs at Chautauqua, N. Y.

With only one dissenting vote, the senate of Louisiana legislature has passed a bill appropriating $25,000 to entertain distinguished guests at the national convention of the American Legion in New Orleans next October. The bill had already passed the house.

Missouri and Kansas state officials of the American Legion have contacted for one of the most important projects yet attempted by the legion in the great 300-mile sweepstakes automobile race to be held in the new half-million dollar speedway at Kansas City on September 16. The two departments are in a fair way of making a handsome sum which will be used for the care of disabled and otherwise needy soldiers.

Two coyote pups will travel by airplane to the American Legion convention in New Orleans from Miles City, Montana. The animals will be chaperoned by the adjutant of the legion post of Miles City.

An official welcome from the French government is awaiting the delegation of American Legionnaires who will revisit the scenes of their A. E. F. activities this August, according to Ambassador Jusserand, speaking in behalf of his government. The party of legion men and their wives will sail from New York August 5 to visit France, Belgium and England.

By a unanimous vote the house of representatives has passed a bill proposed by the American Legion to increase the allowance for attendants to blind and totally disabled world war veterans from $20 to $50 a month.

If torpedoes or other contraband were being carried on the Lusitania when the vessel was sunk by a German submarine, the fact will be known to the world, a Philadelphia concern which is organizing an expedition to salvage the $5,000,000 in gold known to have been on board, has told the American Legion.

A prize of $100 will be offered to the New Orleans artist who submits the most appropriate design for a poster for the annual convention of the American Legion to be held in that city October 16 to 21.

A freak pretending to be half woman and half baboon, giving America as her home and declaring that there are many more like her in this country, attracted considerable attention in a Constantinople, Turkey, street carnival until American Legion men had the act suppressed.

Because it was the only he knew of where he could get food and shelter and a fighting chance to regain his health, he told the American Legion. Solomon Harper, a disabled negro veteran of the world war, pleaded to be sentenced for a number of months to the Auburn, New York, prison. There being no charge against the man, he was not sentenced.

With the prospect of winning a $10,000 wager, Monte Smith, American Legionnaire from Dallas, Texas, is making speed in an effort to hike from Dallas to New York City in 300 days.

The flag that waved over the national capitol at Washington, while the body of America's unknown soldier lay in state in the rotunda, has been presented by a member of the capitol guard to the Covington, Ind., post of the American Legion.

With beef at six cents a pound and pork at five cent and fruit "yours for the asking," a heavy "chow" is promised to all former A. E. F. members who will visit one "Dad" Painter, an enthusiastic American Legionnaire in Guatemala.

The national essay contest of the American Legion which will award

$1,500 in cash prizes to boys and girls has been extended until October 6 upon the urgent request of state and county superintendents and commissioners of education throughout the United States. The new date will allow all children of the United States and its possessions to participate after the schools open in September, giving the teachers an opportunity to present the subject, "How the American Legion can Best Serve the Nation." Meanwhile, scores of letters have been received by Garland W. Powell, assistant national director, at national headquarters of the American Legion in Indianapolis, from state school officials telling of unanimous co-operation. In nearly every state, educational officials are urging that boys and girls be interested in writing this essay as vacation activity. A circular to county superintendents issued by Mrs. Josephine Corliss Preston, superintendent of public instruction, Olympia, Wash., emphasizing the vacation advantage of the contest, is one of many. Porto Rico and the Canal Zone particularly felt the need of extending the time for the essay, letters having been received from Commissioner of Education Juan B. Huyke, of Porto Rico, and Superintendent of Schools A. R. Lang, of the Canal Zone. The cash prizes, divided into $750 for the first, $500 for the second and $250 for the third, are to be used toward scholarships in colleges designated by the winners.

In each state there will be a first prize silver medal for the best essay in that state, and a bronze medal for the second best. Other prizes to be announced later will be awarded. All boys and girls between the ages of 12 and 18, inclusive, are eligible to enter the contest, regardless of whether they are school attendants. The essay must not be more than 500 words in length. Age of writer will be given due consideration. The essay must be received at a place designated by the county superintendent of school not later than midnight of October 6, 1922. The winning essays of the county will be forwarded to the state department Americanism chairman of the American Legion not later than October 20. The winners of the state group then are to be forwarded to the National Americanism Director of the American Legion at Indianapolis, where the first, second and third national winners will be chosen.

American Legion members from all parts of the world are expected to attend the national convention in New Orleans next October as a result of a fifty per cent reduction in passenger rates announced on vessels of the United States shipping board. A letter received from W. B. Keene, traffic manager of the United States Shipping Board Emergency Fleet Corporation, states that the fare reduction will be granted on single or round trip tickets to those legion members and their families, who show conclusively that it is their intention to be present at the New Orleans convention. The reduced fare will also prevail on the United States lines, operating passenger service in the north Atlantic, and on the Munson Steamship Line, operating between New York and the east coast of South America, provided accommodations are available. Convention officials believe that the reduced fare will increase the delegations to the convention from cities on or near the Atlantic coast and the Gulf of Mexico, as well as from 21 foreign countries where legion posts are organized.

CONTRABAND SEIZURES KEEP OUT MEXICAN CROP PESTS

Between July 1, 1920, and April 1, 1922, 75,417 pieces of contraband material, including avocados, oranges, mangos, sweet limes, grapefruit, sapotes, peaches, plums, guavas, sugar cane, sweet potatoes, Irish potatoes, corn, cotton and miscellaneous plants, were taken from individuals entering the United States along the Mexican border by inspectors of the federal horticultural board of the United States Department of Agriculture, in co-operation with customs and immigration officials. To prevent the entry into the United States of the pink bollworm of cotton, which is established in Mexico, the movement of cotton and cotton seed from Mexico was forbidden by law in 1917.

Inspectors enforce this quarantine at all the principal ports of entry on the Mexican border. All freight cars and a large percentage of the vehicles from Mexico are examined for cotton seed, and all baggage in the possession of passengers crossing the border is inspected at Brownsville, Laredo, Eagle Pass, Del Rio and El Paso, Texas, and Nogales, Arizona.

While this inspection is primarily to intercept cotton and cotton seed, the inspectors of the federal government also enforce other quarantines which apply to Mexico, such as those against the Mexican fruit fly, the avocado weevil, sugar cane insects and fungous diseases, the sweet potato weevil, citrus canker and other pests. As Indian corn or maize is frequently contaminated by cotton seed previously stored in the same bins, its entry is conditioned upon grinding or sterilization under the supervision of inspectors of the federal horticultural board.

Children will often eat more bread if different kinds are served, especially for the basket lunch at school or the hot school lunch, says the United States Department of Agriculture. Sometimes so simple a change as baking the bread in a new form—a twist, for example, instead of a loaf—or cutting bread and butter in a fancy shape with a cookie cutter will increase a child's relish for it. So, too, will a change of flavor, obtained by adding a few raisins, dried currants or nut meats.
